Healing through art and science, devotion and discipline, intuition and knowledge

I would like to thank every person who contributes to the preservation and spread of classical homeopathy, whether as a practitioner or as a seeker of healing, because it is my heartfelt desire to help to preserve and apply this clear, humane and accordant way of healing.

The Creation Process

In 2006, I was commissioned to create a life-sized Hahnemann bust.

I began to model the main and facial features based on the most common of his representations. I was astonished to find that the individual forms that I took from the pictures did not match with each other. I looked for more pictures and sculptures from Hahnemann's lifetime and found a lot of them. They, however, depict him in conflicting facial features and forms! They also made it clear that many of the hitherto popular pictures were more in keeping with the man's image of the time - the ideal of beauty - than that they reflected Hahnemann's sometimes striking features. Only the most consistent work of art analysis helped, and I found myself in the midst of art-historical scientific research. This time travel, hand in hand with the empathic observation and the meditative artistic experiments, resulted in four busts, one fist-sized and three life-sized.

Enrichment for You

Hahnemann's perseverance and kindness are portrayed in these portrait sculptures, evoking his virtues in your place. You can buy any portrait sculpture: Either buy immediately - if available - or order a new cast. Every cast is unique.

Brief Description and Use

"Torgau - The Experienced Explorer". Fist-sized round plastic, decorates desk or, on a narrow pillar, also office rooms or shop windows; can be a dignified companion in lectures and seminars; is suitable as an award or gift.

"Leipzig - The Young Researcher". Life-size, face and sides of the head, well suited for frontal view, in the shop window or in front of a wall outside or in the office, in the seminar room, in an entrance hall, on the stage at congresses, etc.

"Hamburg - First Examinations" and "Paris - The Good-Natured Healer" are life-sized round sculptures, well suited inside and outside, for practice and pharmacy, schools and institutes, in an entrance hall, as well as on stage at lectures and congresses.
